

Retail Sources of Native Seeds and Plants

The Kansas Native Plant Society maintains a list of retail sources of wildflower seeds and plants as a resource for individuals interested in plant community restoration and growing native plants. The list is limited to vendors in the Midwest and Great Plains. Entries are listed in alphabetical order. The information provided does not represent an endorsement of any vendor by the Kansas Native Plant Society, nor is it a guarantee of performance of seeds or live plants purchased from any of the vendors. If you know other regional retail sources not included on this list, feel free to provide appropriate information to email@ksnps.org. Information was last updated and verified in January 2006.
