This $1,000 scholarship is awarded to support graduate student research that enhances our understanding of native plant species or their ecosystems and conservation. This scholarship is open to all graduate students regularly enrolled in a Kansas college or university. Proposals must be technically sound and directly applicable to our priorities in Kansas. The scholarship was established in 1998 and honors the late Mary A. Bancroft, a long-time member and supporter of KNPS from Ottawa, Kansas.

Proposals will be assessed based on the merits of the proposed project and how well they fit the objectives of the scholarship.

Please note that reviewers will consist of scientists and non-scientists, so keep your narrative readable to a wide audience.

The KNPS Awards Committee will review applications. Awardees will receive recognition at the KNPS Fall annual meeting. Successful applicants will agree to include the following acknowledgement in all publications resulting from research supported under this program: "The Kansas Native Plant Society provided partial support for this work."

The deadline for receipt of proposals is March 15. Award recipients will be notified by April 15. Funds will be sent to recipients by May 15.
